

III International Conference in Applied Linguistics to Foreign Language Teaching: Towards Multilingualism

Nebrija University is pleased to invite you to the III International Conference of Applied Linguistics to Foreign Language Teaching, to be held June 23-25, 2016 at the Dehesa de la Villa campus in Madrid.

PRESENTATION

The Conference aims to be a meeting point for researchers and teachers, experts or novices, dedicated to teaching, and contribute to the development and dissemination of new work in the fields of Linguistics Applied to Teaching and Foreign Language Didactics.

The languages present in the Conference are English, French, German and Spanish, with a panel specific for each of them, composed of the following sections: oral presentations, workshops, posters and junior research projects.

In this third edition of the International Conference we have as a novelty our invitation to researchers and teachers of other languages, due to the interest they may have in the development of plurilingual competencies. Therefore, we are glad to receive Euskera and Portuguese as guest languages.

Representatives of the six linguistic communities will discuss in two round tables about the challenges of the multilingual society and about different issues related to intercultural communication and language policy.

The programme is rounded off with a series of master lectures given by international leading experts in the most recent aspects of the Conference's topics.

GUIDELINES FOR PAPERS, WORKSHOPS AND POSTERS

Contributions will be presented in the language of the corresponding language panel and will deal with its teaching (English, French, German, Spanish, Euskera and Portuguese). More than two contributions by one author will not be accepted.

In the case of contributions in Euskera, visual aids in Spanish or English are recommended in order to facilitate attendance of participants from other language communities

Oral presentations should have a predominantly theoretical content and must connect research results into the thematic lines of the Conference. The allotted time for each presentation is 20 minutes, to be followed by ten minutes for discussion. Presentations may be signed by more than one author.

Workshops will be delivered in 60 minutes and have a practical approach (explanation of teaching experiences, new projects for foreign language teaching, development of educational activities, etc.). They must follow the workshop standards, taking into account the active participation of attendees. The workshops may be signed by a maximum of three authors. Workshops will not be published in the conference proceedings.

Posters will show both research findings and teaching experiences held in the classroom and will be on display throughout the Conference. Furthermore, a specific time in the program will be allotted for the authors to make a short 5 minute exposition about their work and to answer questions. Posters may be signed by more than one author.

Junior researchers will have 15 minutes to present their Final Project, with five more minutes of discussion with the audience.

AWARDS

- The author of the best Degree Final Project presented in the Conference (according to an Assessment Committee) will be awarded a 50% scholarship for the enrolment price in an official Master's degree of the Applied Languages Department in Nebrija University (Máster Universitario en Lingüística Aplicada a la Enseñanza de Español como Lengua Extranjera, Máster Universitario en Enseñanza Bilingüe para Profesores de Enseñanza Primaria y Secundaria or Máster Universitario en Formación del Profesorado de ESO y Bachillerato, FP y Enseñanza de idiomas).

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PROPOSAL SUBMISSION

Proposals for presentations, workshops and posters will be examined and, if appropriate, approved for presentation by at least two members of the Scientific Committee. All proposals must be sent using the form available at the Conference website, indicating the type of contribution (presentation, workshop or poster) and the panel (ESL, DaF, FLe, etc.). Proposals must include:

- Title
- Kind of contribution: presentation, workshop, poster or Degree Final Project
- Full name of the author/authors, postal address, telephone and e-mail of the author/authors
- Work or Study Centre
- Abstract (maximum 500 words) where the topic, objectives, conclusions, and references must be explained as clearly and specifically as possible
- Technical media required for the presentation
- Brief CV of the author/authors (maximum 10 lines)

Once a work has been accepted for its presentation in the Conference, at least one of the signatories must be registered as a participant. Otherwise, the work will be removed. Moreover, no certificate will be handed in to any signatory who has not paid the registration fees for the Conference.

PUBLICATION OF PROCEEDINGS

Only papers and posters will be considered for their publication in the Proceedings (in the Congress web page). Moreover, those papers selected by a group of anonymous experts for their remarkable interest and scientific rigour will be published in a collective book of scientific nature.

Exhibition "The road to German unity"

We thank the German Embassy in Madrid for having offered this monographic exhibition of over 150 photographs and facsimiles which illustrates how the issue of German reunification was unexpectedly introduced on the national and international policy agenda during the Peaceful Revolution that took place in the GDR. We are pleased to announce that this exhibition will be open in the library of the University during the congress.

² The book exhibition will be open throughout the whole Conference.
